Dear Al,

Thanks for your kind note. You were not at all deceptive: you looked exactly as you describe Sunday morning!

Glad we did get to meet and chat. Hope we do again.

I try and do more than sell books when I'm on shows like Probe. There were no books on sale in Indianapolis. Most places mine just cannot be had. It is called free press. There were a few people who ordered them by mail.

Had to return by train, and that, after years of total abstinence, is an awful hangover. The hour flight took 19 by uncomfortable, unclean train, which was also a third more.

Good luck to you both!

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
